Be Sure and Attend "Pay Night" Tuesday Night

GRAND OLD VETERANS ARE NOW AT ARBAMAR

ADDRESS OF WELCOME BY E. E. FRENCH.

TUESDAY NIGHT IS PAY NIGHT

Fourteenth Year Old Comrades Have Camped In This City; One Hundred Fifty-three Tents Occupied First Day; U. S. Naval Band Here "Pay Night."

The shells and shrapnel are falling thick and fast at Arbamar this week, and, strange to say, a close inspection reveals the fact that no serious damage has been done to the buildings and fine trees that adorn that beautiful recreation park. The fierce struggles between the armies of Generals Grant, Sherman and Lee are being fought over again in the shade of the eucalyptus trees by the Grand Old Boys in Blue. The scenes are as real to them as were the carnal ones of long, long ago. It is an inspiration to be among these honored citizens of a glorious Republic—the men who entered the service of their country while in their teens, as most of those now on this plane of existence did.

Quartermaster A. B. Paul arrived last week and took up the matter of reservations with Rev. F. D. Mather. and has been on the job since that time with his great register.

Several of the more prominent ones began arriving Monday, including Commander Tom Hull of Los Angeles, E. C. Seymour of Highlands, Dr. Hasson of Buena Park. and W. E. Herendeen of Los Angeles, who has charge of the music and entertainment feature of the camp again this year, as he has for several years. Comrade Seymour was the commander when the encampment met here 10 years ago. Tuesday morning Comrade H. B. Myer of Pomona arrived on his bicycle, and, although he is past 74 years of age, he appeared to be as spry as anyone on the grounds, after his long trip astride his wheel.

This is the fourteenth year that the members of the Southern California Veteran Association have journeyed to Huntington Beach for their annual picnic and reunion, and they were given a grand reception Tuesday night by the rendition of a splendid program and remarkably appropriate and timely address of welcome by E. E. French, chairman of the board of trustees. That talk by Mr. French raised him considerably in the estimation of many of his friends, and shows that he has improved wonderfully as a public speaker in the past five years.

In welcoming the Old Veterans, Mr. French spoke as follows:

"Mr. Commander, Ladies of the Relief Corps, and Gentlemen of the Grand Army of the Republic:

"It is indeed, a great privilege and pleasure to have the opportunity to again welcome you to Huntington Beach. All Huntington Beach is here tonight to greet you; to extend to you a welcome such as never before. You are nearer to the people of Huntington Beach than you have ever been, and their hearts go out to you tonight in a welcome which I cannot find words to describe.

"We know now what your feelings were 57 years ago when you answered your country's call. We know now what were the feelings of your fathers and mothers when you, too, marched away at the sound of fife and drum, under the folds of that grand old banner, championing humanity's cause. With that same spirit, that same love of country, that same loyalty, with that same thrill of patriotism in their breasts, your boys and our boys are standing shoulder to shoulder 'over there,' under the same old flag, willing to lay their lives on humanity's altar that all the world may share their heritage of freedom and liberty.

"That, gentlemen, is the magnet that draws us closer to you, and that is why I cannot find words to convey to you the feeling that I know is in the heart of every citizen here tonight.

"Mr. Kaiser Bill sadly underestimated America when he said 'the mongrels can't fight.' They are making it hot for him just now. I am going to tell you a story of an old colored fellow who, in slave times down in Georgia, used to preach to the darkies down on the plantation. He was an ambitious old fellow, and had a great desire to visit the white folks' church—some big church where they do big things. After the close of the war he had accumulated some money, and he went to New York, and while there visited Trinity church, and the thing that impressed him most was the little vestry boys with their white robes and incense pots, chanting their anthems. When he came home he gathered a bunch of little darkies and dressed them up in white robes, and when he had drilled them to suit him, he invited all the darkies into church. All went well, and as the boys came down the isle he noticed one little boy who had no incense pot. He wanted to know what had become of it but did not want to stop him; so, before they came around again, he hit on a plan to find out, and when they came in front of the altar he pitched his voice to the key the boys were singing, and says, 'What did you do with your incense pot?' The little darky caught the cue, and said, 'I left it in the aisle; it was too dam hot.' And since the 'mongrels' got on the job it's too dam hot for Mr. Bill, and he knows now that the world's greatest asset is an American citizen.

"It is our hope that you will continue to come to Huntington Beach for your encampments. You have been with us so long that we feel as though you were a part of us, and that this is just your annual homecoming—an event which we look forward to with pleasure; for, when the Old Boys come, all formality is thrown aside, the barriers are removed, the gates are torn from their hinges, and the town is yours.

"We want to help you make this the most enjoyable encampment you have ever held, and it is our prayer that Almighty God may spare your lives that you may greet the boys when they come home; that you may share with them laurels of victory and honor and added luster to the grand old flag which we all love."

Commander Hull replied briefly, thanking Mr. French for his cordial words of welcome, and expressing appreciation at being in Huntington Beach again this year. He said a good program had been prepared and he would not take up much time.

Quartermaster Paul announced that there were 153 tents occupied as against 97 for the first day of last year.

Too much credit cannot be given the Huntington Beach Municipal Band for the numbers on the program assigned to the band boys. There have been many favorable comments upon the manner in which Director Chas. H. Endicott and his boys distinguished themselves on this occasion.

Some have said that they considered the program the best that had ever been given since the people of Huntington Beach have been giving the program on the opening night. There is no doubt but what it was one of the best, and appears to have pleased all who witnessed it. The big auditorium was filled to overflowing, and the applause indicated how highly satisfactory the various numbers were.

First place on the program is undoubtedly due to the classic dance by Louise Copeland, Margaret Lavering,

REGULAR MEETING OF THE CITY TRUSTEES

LARGE NUMBER OF SPECTATORS WERE PRESENT.

$500.00 FOR FALL FESTIVAL

Salary of Gas Man Raised $25.00 Per Month; Board of Equalization Will Meet Monday Morning.

There was a larger number of spectators present at the regular monthly meeting of the city trustees, Monday evening, than for some time, most of those present being interested in having the trustees make a donation for the Community Fall Festival, that will be staged the first week in October, from the music and promotion fund.

The question was opened up by F. H. McElfresh, chairman of the committee having charge of the Fair, and who is also chairman of he finance committee.

Mr. McElfresh stated that it was universally admitted that the Community Fall Festival last year was of great value to the city and community. The Chamber of Commerce, he said, during the past year had given several entertainments which had been financed almost entirely by the citizens and business men, about $1200 having been collected for that purpose.

He did not think it was fair to ask the business interests to carry the whole load of the Fall Festival to be given next October, as it would be on a much larger scale than last year, and would probably cost about $700.

As such entertainments were of benefit to the entire community, he felt that the expense should be borne by the entire community, and as there was a music and promotion fund for the advancement of the city's interests he felt that a liberal amount should be set aside. Mr. McElfresh stated that a decision was desired, as the committee was to call on the Board of Supervisors for an appropriation. He asked for $100.

T. B. Talbert, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, said he had been in Huntington Beach since the town was placed on the map, and he believed the community events had been of more benefit than anything else in that line that had ever been attempted, and the money was well spent. As an average taxpayer, Mr. Talbert stated he was strongly in favor of the money being taken from the music and promotion fund, as that was exactly what it was intended to be used for. Mr. Talbert said that in Los Angeles county the supervisors had turned over this fund to the Chamber of Commerce for promotion work, which relieved the officials of the work.

Dr. F. E. Wilson said that the Chamber of Commerce was trying to do something for the whole community and the whole community should pay the bill. The Fall Festival last year, he said, was a great surprise to everybody, and he knew of products that had been planted for the Festival to be given this year. The community spirit that had followed these events he considered of much value.

Henry Gibbs said he had resided in Huntington Beach 14 years, and he was sure that the community events had been of more benefit than anything else that had been given in that time. He stated he had traveled all over Orange county and some of Los Angeles county and he had heard nothing but praise for the Community Fall Festival in Huntington Beach. The Festival was given last year, but the results, he said, were amazing, and he did not know how those in charge ever collected such an exhibition of products of this section of the county.

Judge C. W. Warner said he had had inquiries from Newport Heights about the Festival to be given this fall. The music and promotion fund, he said, was approved by the people and the people should say what it should be spent for. The community spirit that had followed these events, he said, could not be measured in dollars and cents. He favored the appropriation.

Judge Louis A. Copeland said that it had been decided to continue the Festival for a longer period of time than last year, and it would cost more, and he was in favor of the appropriation asked for, as it was one of the proper methods of using such funds to the best advantage.

Trustee Joseph Vavra said he was very much in favor of the amount being given, but as there was not sufficient money in the fund at this time it could not be voted, and it would have to rest on a gentlemen's agreement.

Trustee Chapin said he thought the Festival was of vital importance to the community, and he now knew of exhibits that were being prepared for the Festival this year, and he would favor the appropriation when the funds were available.

President E. E. French said that it may not be necessary for him to state his position, but he would say that he was in favor of the amount asked for when it could be given, and he would always stand for anything that would advance the interests of the community.

Trustee H. C. Decker said that the Festivals were of much value, and he was in favor of the amount asked for when it could be given.

Trustee Richard Drew said he would favor the amount being appropriated providing there was no "holler" made about it later; if there was he would not favor it.

It was understood the money would probably be available some time in November, and the appropriation would be made at that time.

City Manager Spencer asked that the salary of F. L. Snyder, who looks after the gas department, be raised from $100 to $125 per month, and the request was granted, as it was shown that Mr. Snyder works nearly all the time, and is always on call.

Judge Warner asked the trustees to pay for the lumber used in the construction of the band stand, the amount being $36, and the request was granted.

Judge Copeland asked that the Huntington Beach Methodist Assembly be allowed $25 as part payment for the cost of 10,000 folders containing some vood advertising for the city of Huntington Beach, saying that the assembly had been the means of bringing more people to Huntington Beach than resided in the city. The repuest was granted on motion of Trustee Vavra, seconded by Trustee Drew.

City Clerk Chas. R. Nutt said the Board would have to meet next Monday morning as a Board of Equalization. Those feeling that their property has been improperly assessed should appear before the Board, Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday, which will be as long as the members will meet, unless there should be some unexpected claims, as Mr. Nutt stated there were none on file Monday night.

City Attorney Nelson reported that the date fixed for the trial of the City versus the Holland Construction Co., in the court at Riverside, was October 31 and November 1.

NEW MANAGER FOR THE CASH MARKET.

There is a new manager in charge of the meat market operated by the Anaheim Beef & Provision Co., in the Basket Grocery. Earl T. Hammond took charge of the place Monday morning, coming from Compton, where he has been in charge of a branch market for the company.

Mr. Hammond has been engaged in the pusiness in this section of California for the past 31 years as meat cutter and proprietor, having peen in Santa Ana in the years 1893-4-5. He has two sons in the service, Earl T. Hammond, Jr., being a drill master at Goat Island, and Willett being in France as a photographer.

J. Gilsinger, who has been in charge of the market since it was taken over by the company, will be employed by them in Anaheim in the future.

LUNG MOTOR IS NOW AT THE TELEPHONE OFFICE.

Since the good use made of the lung motor in saving the life of Creston Harnois of Santa Ana, last week, the city trustees have ordered that in the future it be kept at the telephone office, which is open day and night, and in the future it will be at that place.

This is closer to the beach than the city hall, and is always open, two excellent reasons why it should be kept there.

CAMPMEETINGS ARE CLOSED SUNDAY NIGHT

DR. FERRIS MAY BE THE EVANGELIST NEXT YEAR.

ATTENDANCE SATISFACTORY

Work of Dr. Ferris, The Musical Clarks and Mrs. Stewart Highly Commended; Financial Side Is Also Satisfactory.

The campmeetings conducted by the Huntington Beach Methodist Assembly closed Sunday night amid a flame of glory, and will pass into history as being one of the most beneficial series ever conducted by the assembly.

The speakers told of the harmony and goodfellowship that had marked the close of the meetings, and their story was confirmed by the atmosphere of the big auditorium, which indicated more plainly than words that there existed a genuine feeling of the brotherhood of man. There is no use for a speaker to state that there is harmony if there is none, because his audience can detect the erroneous assertion.

There were three splendid meetings Sunday—at 11:00, 2:00 and 7:30 o'clock—and all of them were well attended, especially the one in the afternoon, when the speaker was Rev. Stidger.

In the evening Rev. S. S. Sampson of Corona, president of the assembly, told how much pleased he was with the result of the meetings and how grateful he was for the co-operation of the business interests of Huntington Beach. From a financial standpoint, he said the assembly had been a success. Rev. Sampson said he believed in being frank with his audience and taking them into his confidence. In the morning he had stated that $200 would be required for the minimum expectations of the management to be realized, and he was glad to say that the collections at the morning and afternoon meetings had totalled $217. He felt that the audience should know this. However, he continued, no one should think that no more money would be asked for, as the $200 was the minimum, and if there was a liberal response at the evening service they could do that much better by those who had so generously and ably assisted in the great success of the meetings.

He expressed his gratitude to Dr. Ferris, the Clarks and Mrs. Stewart for their soul-inspiring messages.

Rev. Sampson said when he was elected president of the United States, he would appoint Rev. Charles H. Scott of Ontario, secretary of the assembly, as secretary of state, and Rev. F. D. Mather of Pasadena, treasurer and manager of the assembly, secretary of the treasury, and he would also find good portfolios for the other directors of the assembly who had been generous enough to overlook the blunders and mistakes of the president.

Rev. Sampson called upon Dr. Mather, who stated that he had experienced a strenuous time caring for those who had visited the grounds. He said that Judge Seely had told him that he had lost 20 pounds in weight the first year he was in charge of this work, and he was not sure just how many pounds he had lost, but closed his coat to show how much too large it was for him.

Assistant Treasurer Rev. McKenzie was called upon, and confirmed what had been said by the previous speakers. He said that it had required three hours of his time to segregate and count the collections after one day's services.

Rev. Scott said that he wanted to add his approval of what had been said about those who had been instrumental in the success of the meetings. He also said that if any of these people had any relatives and these relatives had any friends who had assisted in any manner, either directly or indirectly, he wanted to thank them for it. Rev. Scott said the idea of Rev. Sampson being president rather appealed to him, and if it did happen he was sure the country would have a strong president, and spread one of his famous smiles over the audience and allowed those present time to think of what a strong secretary of state would head the cabinet.

Rev. Hill and Rev. Betts were also among those that were commended for their good work. Rev. Hill stated from the floor that he thanked the Clarks and Mrs. Stewart and Dr. Ferris, closing by saying that he had never heard, and never expected to hear, better preaching at an assembly meeting than that of Dr. Ferris.

Rev. Sampson said that they would have to arrange for Dr. Ferris to do the preaching next year, and the applause that followed indicated the popularity of Dr. Ferris with the audience.

REV. WILLIAM STIDGER MAKES INTERESTING TALK.

GREAT WAR ADDRESS AT ARBAMAR SUNDAY.

By far the most interesting and instructive talk on the war delivered in Huntington Beach was heard by a capacity audience at Arbamar, Sunday afternoon, by Rev. William Stidger of San Jose, who spent seven months as a war Y.M.C.A. secretary in France.

Rev. Stidger's talks are patriotic, elevating, uplifting, sublimely sincere and superlatively dramatic. He confirms the old, old story that there is a silver lining to every cloud, no matter how black and ominous it may appear, as, notwithstanding the fact that he talks on the subject of the most brutal war ever known to humanity, one feels refreshed and more interested in life after haying heard him talk.

Rev. Stidger is endowed with a wonderful artistic power to describe what he witnessed while abroad, and paints a beautiful word picture that stands out before his auditors as though it was on canvas suspended above his head. He talks entirely of the good side of the great conflict, and he has a wonderful message for those who are fortunate enough to hear him talk.

Rev. Stidger said that he had found the soldiers were not afraid of death, only so far as it would affect the folks at home. The only thing they were afraid of was being afraid.

He told a story of a Hebrew boy who was wounded and had stripped a dead German soldier and taken the weapons and clothing with him to the hospital and refused to allow the attendants to take them from him, saying he would die on thir hands if they did. One of the doctors remarked that if there were enough Hebrew soldiers in the Allied armies they would send the German army home naked.

He said the American boys would return with a greater sense of appreciation of home than ever before, and a larger and fuller understanding of Jesus Christ, and would therefore be better and more useful citizens.

Nearly all of the boys, he said, carry Bibles and make good use of them.

Rev. Stidger styles his lectures "Silhouettes of Sunshine," "Silhouettes of Song," etc. He was introduced by Rev. Charles H. Scott.

REV. MATHER IS A CANDIDATE FOR ASSEMBLYMAN.

Rev. Franklin D. Mather, manager of Arbamar, is a candidate for the assembly in one of the Pasadena districts. This is a clear case of the office seeking the man, as Rev. Mather was induced by his friends to permit the use of his name with the understanding that they would take care of his campaign, as he will be in Huntington Beach until after the primary election.

Rev. Mather is one of the pioneers in the temperance movement, and for a generation he has assailed the strongholds of John Barleycorn, and it would be a most fitting tribute for his friends to elect him so that he might be permitted to cast a vote for the National Prohibition amendment that will make the Union dry.

The News joins with the many friends of Rev. Mather in wishing him success at the primary.

BIG IMPROVEMENTS PLANNED FOR ARBAMAR

REV. SCOTT MAKES STATEMENT SUNDAY.

TENTS TO BE ABANDONED

Permanent Buildings To Be Erected; Beautiful Arches For the Entrances; Different Buildings For Three Sections.

If the dream of the directors of the Huntington Beach Methodist Assembly, as expressed by Rev. Chas. H. Scott and Rev. F. D. Mather at the meeting Sunday, are realized, every citizen of Huntington Beach will certainly have occasion for being grateful.

Rev. Scott said they had been dreaming, and, after outlining the beautiful siesta he and his co-workers had been enjoying, asked those in the audience who favored the dream to raise their hands, and the generous approval indicated that the directors' plans are strongly approved by the membership.

Rev. Scott said that the tentative plans called for buildings on the block where the Methodist church stands for the accommodation of families; on the block where the parsonage stands dormatories for girls; on the block across Twelfth street from the church dormatories for boys, and the other block for recreation grounds, as at present, but much improved and enlarged.

Rev. Scott said he believed there were many persons of means who would be pleased to have memorial buildings erected and donate them, and an opportunity would be given any who desired to do so.

It is the intention to have beautiful arches erected at the four entrances to the grounds, and in many other ways improve and beautify the park, which, Rev. Scott stated, would in the years to come become as famous as Winona Lake and other Eastern religious centers.

He stated that it was the intention of the directors to have other denominations use the grounds, and there would be continuous sessions through the season.

Of course, time will be required for the materialization of these contemplated changes, but their eventuality will mean more for Huntington Beach than anything that has occurred in many years.

MEETING OF MEMBERS OF H. B. PRODUCE ASS'N.

THURSDAY EVENING IN THE LIBRARY.

There will be an adjourned members' meeting of the H. B. Produce Association, next Thursday evening at 7:30, in the Chamber of Commerce room of the public library building. The principal business to be transacted is the election of 7 directors to manage the affairs of the association for the coming year. The directors will elect officers to carry out their expressed desires. The public is invited to attend.

Rolph for Governor

A Big Man For a Big Job

THE OFFICE OF GOVERNOR OF CALIFORNIA IS A BIG JOB, AND REQUIRES A BIG MAN TO HANDLE IT SUCCESSFULLY. James Rolph, Jr., Mayor of San Francisco for the past 7 years, is one of the substantial citizens of the West, and is the man for this big job at this critical period in the world's history. The State pays the Governor a salary of $10,000—only one state, Illinois, pays a higher salary, and the man who holds the office should be one who is capable of earning that salary in the commercial world. ¶Since Mr. Rolph was elected Mayor, the City of San Francisco has constructed the most successful municipal street railway system in the world, that is now earning big dividends for the people. The privately-owned street railroad said the Twin Peaks tunnel could not be built. The city administration under Mr. Rolph made the long bore and cars are running through it. ¶His administration has given the Bay City one of the most beautiful city halls in America. ¶Mayor Rolph is one of the big ship builders of the Coast, his yards at Eureka being the pride of the North California coast, and he will soon have a steel shipbuilding plant in operation at Alameda, on San Francisco Bay.

His administration is also building the great Hetch Hetchy Municipal Water System for the people of San Francisco.

Mayor Rolph was born in the Mission District of San Francisco, and has always been recognized as the laboring man's friend.

He has at all times been highly successful with his private affairs, being endowed with great executive ability, which eminently qualifies him to successfully manage the affairs of the Great State of California.

He is no windjammer and no politician, but a man of large affairs, who is offering his services to the citizens of his state.

He is one of the patriotic citizens of the Commonwealth, and stands for war until the enemy is completely and overwhelmingly crushed.

Vote for him if you want a real business man at the head of state affairs

SOCIAL INSURANCE PROPAGANDA AROUSES LABOR'S SUSPICION.

The vigorous campaign to establish compulsory social health insurance for wage earners, which in California takes the form of an amendment to our state constitution, has induced the American Federation of Labor to investigate the propaganda and ascertain who is furnishing the money. Accordingly at the June meeting of the A. F. of L., held in St. Paul, presided over by Samuel Gompers, the following resolution was adopted:

WHEREAS, During the past few years great efforts have been made to obtain the approval and support of organized labor to a scheme for social health insurance, promoted by persons and organizations who have no affiliation with the labor movement; and

WHEREAS, Owing to the intensive and costly campaign which the promoters of this scheme have carried on during the past two years, at one time seeking to have this legislation adopted in twenty-eight different states, suspicion has been aroused that this scheme is supported by hose who, for years, have sought to disrupt and retard the cause of the workers; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That the Executive Council are hereby instructed to make an immediate investigation of this question and to point out its dangers or benefits with their recommendations thereon as soon as possible, and the Executive Council are further instructed to ascertain, if possible, what are the financial resources of the persons and organizations promoting this scheme and what relation they may [illegible] posed to the best interests of the labor movement.

Another resolution, calling upon the American Federation of Labor to indorse a national system of social insurance, was rejected at the same meetinp. This disapproval of social insurance by the American Federation of Labor si in line with Samuel Gompers' well-known opposition to the insurance.

WEEKLY GREETING.

Go forth into the busy world and love it, interest yourself in its life; mingle kindly with its joys and sorrows; try what you can do for men rather than what you can make them do for you, and you will know what it is to have men yours, better than if you were their king or master.—Brooke Herford.

WELCOME, OLD SOLDIERS.

Every man, woman and child in this vicinity bids the Southern California Veteran Association a most cordial welcome, and rejoices that they have been coming here for the past 14 years.

These Grand Old Men are the rear guard of the Great Army that wore the blue, whose ranks are being rapidly depleted by the falling years that Old Father Time has been bombarding them with for more than half a century, and in a few years will have been completely annihilated before the ceaseless tide of everflowing time.

Their glorious achievements in the trying times of the civil conflict that for a time rent the American Union asunder, will ever stand out as the crowning glory of American history, and their names will be revered by unborn generations that will continue to enjoy the priceless heritage of their victory.

Words of praise and commendation are now falling about them thicker and faster than did the shells and balls of the stormy years in the past, and will continue until their mortal remains have been placed in their final resting place, "beneath the sad hemlocks, the solemn pines, the weeping willows, and embracing vines."

It was the bravery of these benefactors of the human race that made it possible for a great, powerful and mighty American Union to be the deciding factor in the present world struggle to forever free humanity from the entangling chains of autocratic bondage.

Our hats are off to the Grand Old Boys in Blue as they go marching by.

Our hearts are with the dear Old Veterans that are esteemed so high.

TWO UNITED STATES EXTREMES.

The topography of California is of more interest than that of any other state, as it contains two of the extreme conditions in the Union, being the highest and lowest altitudinal points. The most remarkable feature about this bump and depression is the fact that they are separated by only 90 miles. Mt. Whitney, the highest peak in the United States, is 14,898 feet above sea level, and Death Valley, 90 miles away, is 300 feet below the mean tide line of the Pacific.

THE MERRIMACK RIVER.

Bring us the airs of purple forests,
The sweet aroma of birch and pine,
Give us a waft of the north wind, laden
With sweetbrier odors and breath of kine.

Bring us the purple of mountain sunsets,
Shadows of clouds that rake the hills,
The green repose of thy Plymouth meadows,
The gleam and ripple of Campton hills.

Lead us away in shadow and sunshine,
Slaves of fancy, through all thy miles,
The winding ways of Pemigewasset,
And Winnipesaukee's hundred isles.

The cradle song of thy hillside fountains
Here in thy glory and strength repeat;
Give us a strain of thy upland music,
Show us the dance of thy silver feet.

Sing on! bring down, O lowland river,
The joy of the hills to the waiting sea;
The wealth of the vales, the pomp of mountains,
The breath of the woodlands, bear with thee.

Here, in the calm of thy seaward valley,
Mirth and labor shall hold their truce;
Dance of water and mill of grinding,

THE JORDAN.

"The Jordan is unique among rivers. Its physical peculiarities are many and striking. Thousands of streams are more beautiful and useful, but none has ever attracted so much attention or is so universally known to mankind," William Eleroy Curtis writes in his book, "Today in Palestine." "It rapidly drops from the limestone cliffs of Lebanon into the Dead Sea, more than twelve hundred feet below the level of the Mediterranean. The Valley of the Jordan is filled with silt washed by heavy rains from the surface of the adjacent mountains. The water is clear and green where it leaves the Sea of Galilee; an Arab poet has likened it to a gigantic green serpent; but it is not green long; it gathers soil along its journey until it becomes a thick solution of clay, the color of chocolate, even darker than the waters of the Missouri.

"Between the Sea of Galilee and the Dead Sea the Jordan plunges over twenty-seven cascades and rapids and falls a thousand feet, more than any other known river except the Sacramento. These rapids give it its name, for Jordan means literally 'The Down-Comer.' . . The Jordan is one of the crookedest rivers known. In covering a distance of sixty miles, for that is the length of a straight line drawn on the map between the Sea of Galilee and the Dead Sea, it runs two hundred and twelve miles because of the multiplication of its windings; and its length varies, because of frequent changes in the course which it carves for itself in the soft and barren soil. The clay of its banks makes good bricks, and Solomon used it in the construction of the Temple.

"The actual stream between the two lakes varies from sixty to one hundred feet in width and from six to twenty feet in depth, but in midsummer during the dry season, it can be crossed in several places by a man in ordinary boots. Where it is widest the banks and the bottom are mud; where it is narrowest they are rock. The immediate valley will average eight miles in width, and, on the east side, is shut in by a range of mountains covered with forests and forbidding plains of naked desert, while on the other side, toward the Mediterranean, are broken ranges of hills intersected by fertile valleys.

"Geologists say that the entire country which surrounds the Jordan was once filled with water from which the granite peaks of Sinai, Hermon and the Lebanons alone protruded.

"Modern observers will always be mystified as to how people crossed the Jordan in early times. There are occasional fords, but the abrupt, muddy banks are difficult to climb, and the lower the water the greater the difficulty. . . To Israel the crossing was as great a crisis as that of the Red Sea, and several passages in the Old Testament show how great a gulf of separation the Jordan was, with the jungles, its muddy banks and rapid current. Until the Romans came there were no bridges across the Jordan."

One of the greatest lessons of life is to learn not to do what one likes, but to like what one does.—H. Black.

Aristotle, the great philosopher, was once asked what a person could gain by uttering a falsehood, and he replied: "Not to be credited when he shall tell the truth."

FRED OTT LEAVES FOR SERVICE SUNDAY.

Fred Ott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ferd Ott, will leave for San Diego, Sunday, where he will enter quarantine for three weeks, and will then go to Newport, Miss.. to enter the Government service as a second-class machinist in the aviation branch.

Fred has been employed as chauffeur for J. Houser, of the Houser Packing Co. of Los Angeles, who recommends him very highly for his faithful and efficient work.

SSERVICES OF FRED OTT HIGHLY APPRECIATED.

The following lines were written by Mrs. H. J. Houser, for whom Fred Ott acted as chauffeur:

AN ODE TO FRED.

A brown Winton once stood in the Flower Street Garage,
There was no one to drive it, 'twas said;
For the salary was small and the hours were so long
The driver scarce needed a bed.

But a fine-looking chap by the name of Fred Ott
Came sauntering slowly along;
And he said to himself, "I'll try it, why not?
These fellows may all be dead wrong."

He applied for the job, and the fellows all laughed,
And wanted to bet him a lot
That he wouldn't stay with it for more than a month—
But that didn't bother Fred Ott.

For he's made from different material,
this boy,
And has learned very early in life
That a smile and an effort to do what is right
Often overcomes trouble and strife.

Almost a year he's been with us now,
But he's going to leave us today—
His country has called and he's answered
With a smile, as was always his way.

We are proud of you, Fred, and we'll miss you—
The old Winton won't seem the same
Without you at the wheel to speed us along
To any old place we might name.

And we'd bid you goodbye with reluctance
Were it not that you're "physically
And no matter where Uncle Sam puts you,
We know that you'll sure do "your bit."

We present you herewith a small
wrist watch,
With this well-meant but impromptu rhyme;
If it serves you as faithfully as you have served us,
You'll never be asking the time.

LEXINGTON CAR MAKES SENSATIONAL RECORD.

By making the run from Kingman, Ariz., to Los Angeles, Calif., a distance of 407 miles—across the Mojave and Great American deserts—in 11 hours and 46 minutes, on high gear, a Lexington Minute Man Six recently smashed all previous records for this gruelling drive. It not only beat the fastest Santa Fe passenger train, but it overwhelmed all stock and racing car records.

Nearly an hour was clipped off the record made by Barney Oldfield and his racing car in the last Los Angeles to Phoenix race.

The start from Kingman was made at 2 o'clock on a Saturday afternoon and the car with its two drivers and two observers reached Los Angeles and checked in at the Western Union office at 1:46 Sunday morning.

The car was checked out of Kingman by newspaper representatives and the Western Union and also it was checked by the Western Union at Goffs, Ludlow, Barstow, Needles, and Oatman. Harry Hunter, of Phoenix, state representative in Arizona for Wisdom and Company, Lexington distributors, and J. E. Keller, connected with the automobile department of the Arizona Engineering Company, alternated at the wheel. The observers were G. R. Franklin, manager of the Arizona Engineering Company, and F. E. Boyd, a business man of Kingman.

Between Goffs and Ludlow a terrible stretch of desert road, 87 miles long, was encountered. It was covered at night at an average speed of 40 miles an hour. The Gold Roads hill out of Kingman, which has always been considered a second speed proposition, was made on high, according tween San Bernardino and Los Angeles was made in one hour and 31 minutes, according to the sworn statement of the observers, in spite of the fact that the wrong road was taken on two occasions. Between these two points the Foothills boulevard was followed.

"The car was stock in every particular," declared Hunter. "In fact, there was not a bit of preparation for the entire trip except a general looking over. In addition to the four passengers there was about 150 pounds of baggage. Every foot of the distance was made on high and not a drop of oil or water was placed in the car after we started. We had two blowouts, which were quickly repaired. The first change was made in three minutes and the second change in ten minutes. No adjustments of any kind were necessary."

When the trip was completed the drivers and observers signed an affidavit bearing out the statements made above.

Betty Onson, Mary Laer O'Brien, Alice Hill, Katheryn Onson, Dorothy Grunwald, Mildred Manning, Claudina Avila, appearing as nymphs; Nella Onson as kewpie; Edna Warner and Roberta Higgins as butterflies. The artistic stage effect displayed in this act carried it somewhat beyond an ordinary amateur performance. Nella Onson, the 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Onson, was a wonderful success as kewpie. Kewpie was released from a cabinet in the rear of the stage, and made a great hit with the big audience. The other girls did most excellent work for the limited training that they had prior to the performance. Miss Gladyse Bollon presided at the piano.

Little Nora Davey of Los Angeles, who takes part in some of the work at one of the film companies, also appeared in a dance that indicated finish and ability. She is a friend of Mrs. Chas. H. Endicott, and has appeared here on a former occasion. She was accompanied by Miss Mary Van Fleet.

The Boy Scouts, whom the public is always interested in, gave a very appropriate and interesting number, "Tenting On the Old Camp Ground," the words being sung by the Municipal Band quartet, composed of Will Gallienne, first tenor; Victor Creamer, second tenor; B. R. Marsters, first bass; G. F. Fowler, second bass. The following Scouts took part, under the direction of Cecil McCoy: Glen C. Turner, Joe Copeland, Gordon Talbert, Clarence Brown, Paul Adair, Howard Andrews, Chester Reno, Robert Allen. Chas. H. Endicott presided at the piano.

The flag drill was one of the most interesting seen in a long time, as there were no repetitions in the exercises. The girls were trained by Miss Mildred Mitchell, and she is to be complimented. Miss Van Fleet accompanied. The following participated in the drill: Muriel Bentley, Ruth Horn, Irene Hodge, Elsie Lake, Mildred Moore, Esther Kloeckner, Vivian Hodge, Lynnette Robb, Serena Higgins, Edna Hearn, Irene Criley, Velma Williams, Esther Irwin, Mabel Kloeckner, Evelyn Howe, Mildred Walker, Gladys Hodge, Louise Copeland, Merle Moore, Margaret DeLapp.

The ladies' quartet, Mrs. Louis A. Copeland, Mrs. Harry A. Bowman, Mrs. Paul C. Elfeld, Miss Mary A. Turner, were appreciated, as they always are.

Other good numbers were a vocal solo by Mrs. B. W. Ellis, accompanied by Miss Florence Sawyer; vocal solo by Miss Irene Hodge, accompanied by Mildred Moore; song by Miss Muriel Bentley, Miss Irene Hodge, Miss Blanche Sarrabere, Earl Cochran, Kenneth Snyder and Bennie Page, and a reading by James Lake. If the Kaiser could have heard what Mr. French, Miss Hodge and James Lake said about him he would probably decorate them with iron crosses.

Next Tuesday night is "Pay Night," and everybody in Huntington Beach who can conveniently do so should attend and show the Old Veterans that they are appreciated, as this is the only way they have of raising funds to defray the expense of the encampment. The admission will be 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children. Mr. Herendeen announces that he has secured the U. S. Naval Reserve Band from the training station at San Pedro, composed of 50 pieces, and this alone should be worth more than the price of admission. The program will be a good one.

Mrs. Mary McCain, Mrs. A. H. Sylvester and Mrs. Ruth A. Williams had charge of the program for the W.R.C.

This, the "L"-Head type of automobile engine, like all internal combustion engines, requires an oil that holds its lubricating qualities at cylinder heat, burns clean in the combustion chambers and goes out with exhaust. ZEROLENE fills these requirements perfectly, because it is correctly refined from selected California asphalt-base crude.

"Proven Entirely Satisfactory"
Only perfect satisfaction can account for the use of ZEROLENE by the majority of automobile owners.
Leading coast distributors also testify that it is "a most satisfactory motor oil."

VETERAN IS FORMER NEWSPAPER MAN.

COMRADE A. H. DORMAN OF LOS ANGELES.

There is one Old Veteran at Arbamar that has had considerable newspaper experience in his younger days. Abram Henry Corman of Los Angeles was editor of a paper in Colorado Springs, Colorado, a generation ago, that is known today as the Daily Telegraph.

Twenty-seven years ago Comrade Corman conducted a weekly temperance paper in Redlands, called "The Hour," which was later merged into the Weekly Review, now the Daily Review, owned by Paul W. Moore and State Senator Lyman M. King. He sold the Review a short time later, and has not been engaged in active newspaper work since that time.

Comrade Corman is a member of Stanton Post of Los Angeles, a past commander of Post No. 22 of Colorado Springs, and Bear Valley Post No. 162 of Redlants.

Mr. Corman is of fighting stock, as both of his grandfathers took part in the Revolutionary War under General Washington. His father served in Co. H, 54th Illinois Vol. Inf. from Dec. 15, 1861, to March 26, 1865, being discharged at the age of 57 years for disability.

Mr. Corman was enrolled at Jacksonville, Ill., as a member of Co. I, 101st Ill. Vol. Inf., and saw active service from the opening of the Atlanta campaign to the close of the war in Sherman's army. He was wounded at Newhope church, near Dallas, Ga., He was in the grand review at the National Capital.

Comrade Corman has the distinguished honor of having been a member of Post No. 1 of the G.A.R., organized at Decatur, Ill., April 6, 1866, and had the further honor of having assisted in setting the type for the first ritual of the order printed.

AT CLUNE'S AUDITORIUM.

W. H. Clune has the reputation in California of showing the greatest pictures the world has ever seen at his Auditorium in Los Angeles before any other exhibitor. The reason for this is that the greatest producers in the world are located in and around Los Angeles. They want to exhibit their productions first to the patrons of Clune's Auditorium, and if they are a success there they will unquestionably prove a success all over the country. D. W. Griffith has found this to be true, and for that reason always shows the Griffith productions at the Auditorium first.

On August 12th the latest Griffith picture, "The Great Love," will show for the first time in Los Angeles at Clune's Auditorium. This is the second of the great Gri th productions since the return of the premier director from the battlefields of France, and, like "Hearts off the World," is a love story of the great war. The scene of this story is laid in England where the scene of the "Hearts of the World" was laid in France.

Of the celebrated players who will be seen in "The Great Love," the most notable are Robert Harron, a splendid actor yho appeared in "Hearts of the World;" Henry B. Walthall, a superior screen player who has been starred in scores of notable photoplays; Lillian Gish, George Fawcett, George Seigmann, Rosemary Theby, Gloria Hope and Maxfield Stanley.
